Lasso a Dream was the theme for the 1981 Red Devil annual. The lasso seemed appropriate since the "western" influence was strong this year in movies, songs, and dress. The staff hoped that through these pages we could show that each student had dreams in all aspects of life whether it was achieving in academics, winning a sports contest, or just making it through school. "If you can imagine it, you can achieve it, if you can dream it, you can become it."

Anticipation

Former Beatle, John Lennon, was quoted as saying "Produce your own dream, it is quite possible to do anything." Lennon's senseless death shocked the world, but his music and outlook for the new decade renewed Prague student's assurance that they could Lasso a Dream. It is in the Anticipation, hard work, and long hours of practicing for a dream to come true that overwhelming emotions such as pleasure and excitement are created and remembered — winning District in football, being recognized as a National Gold Emblem Chapter in F.F.A. and achieving superior ratings in marching band.

The return of the 52 American Hostages from Iran, Ronald Reagan's landslide victory in the 1980 Presidential election, and interest rates climbing to 21 percent were nationally significant issues that changed students' lives. Many new Beginnings at school were also of great importance to the student body — a new Computer Science Class, an enlargement of the high school office, and a new gifted and talented classroom was built by the CVET students.

Our way of life quickly changed toward a more conservative and a "back to the basics" outlook. Country music became so popular that it was just a two-step behind rock 'n' roll. Movies such as Urban Cowboy and Coal Miner's Daughter developed into box office smashes and prompted a new craze — deck out in fancy western clothes, drive a shiny pickup truck, try to ride a mechanical bull, and Lasso A Dream.

Beginnings

Running Wild and Having Fun We're the Class of '81

Our Senior year, the year we all waited and wished for, finally arrived. Although we had regrets and felt the nostalgia of leaving, we were ready to meet the challenge the world offered. We will see if the world can handle the "Seniors of '81."

This year was full of activities for the seniors to do. The studying (sometimes), the parties, the Friday night games, the new friends we made, measuring for caps and gowns, ordering announcements, the ACT test and the challenges we overcame formed memories that will never be forgotten.

Seniors also experienced many different feelings during the course of their last year . . . excitement, frustration, joy, and sadness. Yet through all that happened one thought remained strong, '81 SURE WAS FUN.

All-School Play ... Flu Epidemic
Lincoln County Tournament Field Trips ... Band went to State ... All these different events were on the minds of 309 High School, 209 Middle School, and 416 Elementary students throughout the school year.
Always on the go, we tried to Lasso a Dream.

one of her "many" cars. Carl Perkins (bot-

Gregory for all-school play performance.
Carolyn Long and Mike Cockman (bottom right) hurried out in the blowing snow to go to the lunchroom.

During the nine months of school students spent 1080 hours in class and 90 hours at lunch. In addition to this time students spent many hours in extra-curricular activities; such as drill team, FFA, cheerleading, and different sports

While participating in these activities, we made many friends. With these friends we shared not only each others' disappointments, but also our dreams. Dreaming of winning the game, making cheerleader or maybe dreaming of snow were the things students shared with each other. Hoping to have the grand champion of the fair or making drill team tryouts were also our dreams which no one can ever take away

When we left PHS, we realized some of us would never see each other again, but we hoped the memories of our relationships and our dreams will never fade

Relationships

Expressions

Expressions of sadness, shock, happiness, spirit ache, the agony of defeat, and the thrill of victory were all displayed by students as they sought to Lasso A Dream. Sometimes expressions told more about a person than what he said. In fact, students' words were often misleading while their expressions showed their true feelings.

Caught looking in her locker, was Shelly Warden in the new western" look

Following the Bo Derek (above) look that was started in the movie "10" was Karen Oakley. Mike Baker (right) showed his taste in music by wearing a concert T-shirt

At Prague, the styles were usually set by what was happening on the O.U. and O.S.U. campuses. Sometimes they were slow in getting here, but they usually caught on fast

One of the popular fads in clothing was the "preppy" look. An oxford shirt, a pair of NIKE tennis shoes, or a blazer and skirt would be what someone who wanted to look preppy might wear. Also, the "urban cowboy" look was in with people wearing boots, cowboy hats, and western shirts. Along with dressing western, people were dancing western, too. The two step and the Cottoned-Eyed Joe were just two of the many everyone was learning

A survey was taken at PHS, grades 9 through 12, which showed even though the rest of the country was going country, the students still preferred Rock-n-Roll music with AC/DC as their favorite group and with the country sound of Kenny Rogers coming in second. The Corvette was chosen as the "dream car" by the students, with the Chevy Pick-up coming in a close second. Dallas with the mean J. R. Ewing was chosen the favorite T.V. program and Stir Crazy was the favorite movie

The fads and fashions made a major contribution to a unique year and added their own color to the haze of PHS

The "In" Look

Reflections

Reflections /rɪˈflekʃəns/ n 1 to look at a yearbook and remember, esp. the return of one's youth reflected from the page(s) of reflections 2 the production of an image by the use of pictures and/or copy 3 an image given back by a reflecting surface

As we began to Lessons from we looked back on the times we spent at school. We remembered times like the first day of school, the last day of school, our first date, the prom, the first annual brain bowl, and graduation night. Reflections of a yearbook provided memories that were valuable to each and every one of us. Reflections of memories that will remain valuable to us forever.

Heloisa Tourinho, an eleventh grader in our high school, was a student on the "Youth for Understanding" program from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. She lived in Prague for six months with her sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Oakley and family.

Heloisa spoke and understood English fairly well and had little trouble communicating with her sponsors, her teachers, and her newly made friends. She fast became accustomed to living in Prague and enjoyed her stay here. She said that she liked the activities of a small town, especially the extracurricular school events, which were very different from the large metropolitan area of Rio de Janeiro.

Heloisa's hobbies are reading, listening to guitar music, and spending time on the beach. She has two sisters and one brother. Her mom is a lawyer and dad an engineer.

We enjoyed having Heloisa as a classmate and friend. It was very exciting getting to know her.

Seniors Had Great Year

Being a senior was a "fun year." Although it had its ups and downs, the whole year was a very hectic time for seniors.

Graduation announcements and caps and gowns were ordered, a senior-faculty basketball game was played, and a senior supper was served. The end of school was even busier with activities each night.

Seniors choosing to join the alumni were required to roll a mini-marshmallow covered with mustard using their noses for one block, to go on a scavenger hunt, and to dress in a costume and get 250 Prague alumni graduates to sign their paddles.

Finally, on May 8 at 12:00 noon the clan left by chartered bus to Six Flags over Texas. It rained the whole time while at Six Flags which made the trip very memorable.

If you can imagine it, you can achieve it; if you dream it, you can become it.

Today we'll start a new life
 And we'll say our last goodbyes
 To all the friends we've grown to love
 With whom we've laughed and cried.

Remembering the fun and laughter
 The problems and the fears,
 And watching all our memories grow
 Throughout our high school years.

The memories of the dances
 And the new friends that we've met,
 Vacations, teachers, talking
 And exams we'd rather forget.

Yes, high school days are precious but brief,
 Where all your dreams come true;
 It is not the end, but the beginning
 Of a life we'll start anew.

Love the World Away

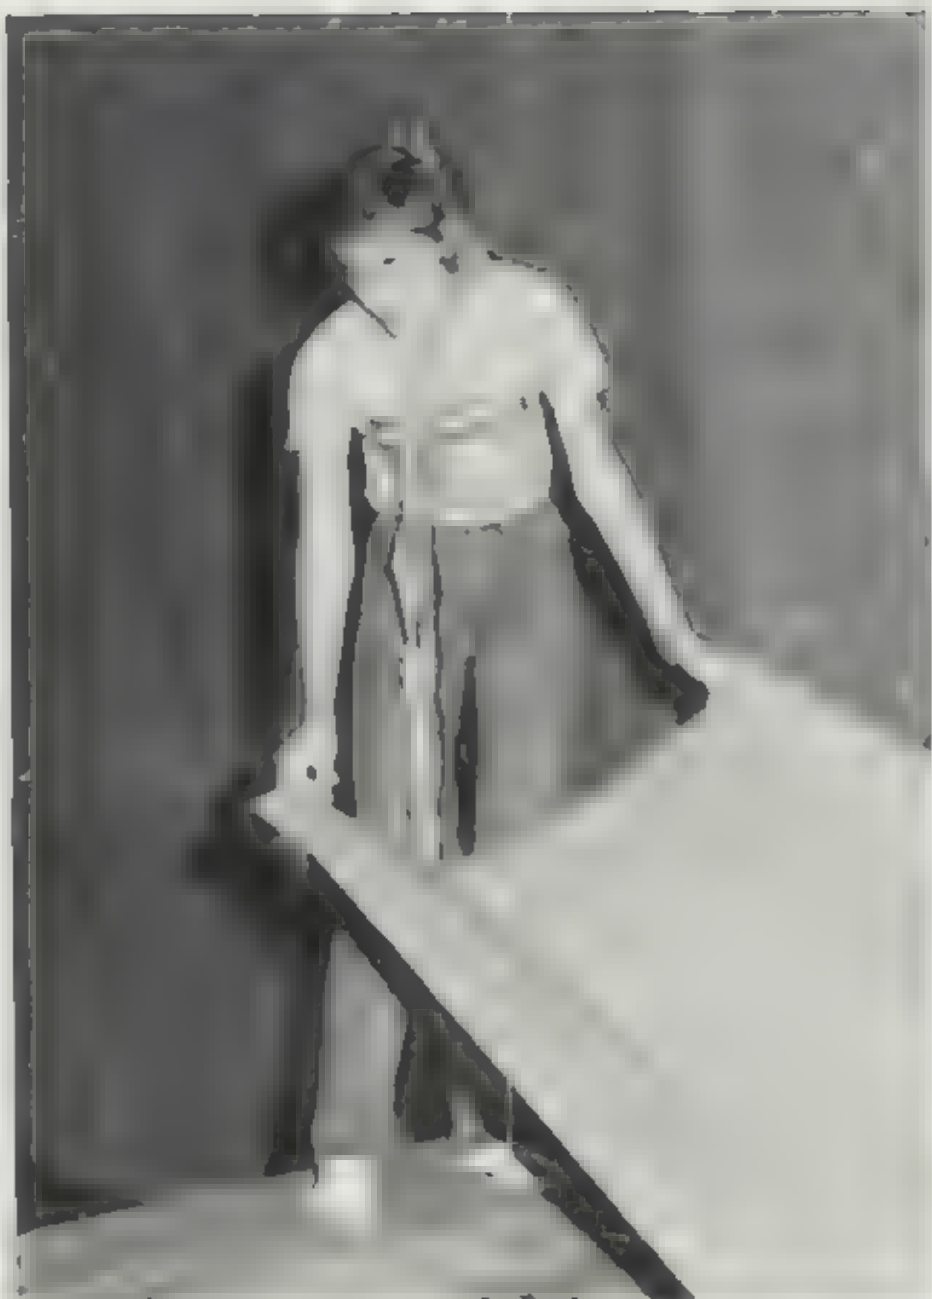

"On Saturday, April 11, 1981, the Junior Class of Prague High School requested the honor of your presence at the Junior-Senior prom from seven to twelve o'clock in the evening at the Community Center.

Love the World Away was the theme for this year's prom. The music was provided by the 96X Radio Station. The welcome was given by Mitchell Gregory and the response by Jeff Heinzig. The speech department provided "Worlds to Come." Special "thanks" to our sponsors, Mrs. Guida Thomas, Mr. Bud Thomas, and Mr. Jeff Pritchard.

All School Play Sets New Record

The all school play set a new record for number of cast members. The play cast contained about thirty-five. The play was called "The Mouse That Roared," and was performed by the late Peter Sellers. Miss Jones has done an excellent job with the play.

Devils Attain District Championship

"Our talent might not have been as good as some of the teams we played, but the loyalty, dedication and teamwork was excellent" was how Coach Brower described the 1980 football season. According to Coach Brower the highlights of the year were the last three games. They had to win all three games to get into the playoffs and he said, "The team responded to the challenge by getting into the playoffs but losing the first round to Chandier 21-6." The best game of the year was against Holdenville and we beat them 14-12. Lexington and Meeker were the other two we had to win, and we succeeded.

The Seniors chosen for All-District and All-66 Conference were as follows: Mike Denney - All District, All-66 Conference Defensive Player of the year; Jay Crawford - All District, All-66 Conference Half Back; Jeff Heinzig - All District, All-66 Conference Nose Guard; Mike Cockman - All District; Chris Podest - All District; Brent McGinnis - All District, All-66 Conference Tackle.

Shari Thoma Crowned Basketball Queen

During intermission between the girls' and boys game, Miss Shari Thoma was crowned 1980-81 Basketball Queen. Jay Crawford presented Shari with a bouquet of red roses and Damon Moon crowned her. The coronation was Friday, January 30 during the Drumright game. The high school and ninth grade cheerleaders along with the Drill team members formed a lane through which the attendants and candidates walked to their places. The high school and ninth grade basketball teams also participated in the homecoming event. The band played "Close to You" as the cheerleaders, Drill team members, and basketball players took their places on the court. The basketball players formed a semicircle around the queen's court. The coronation proved to be an exciting evening.

Working for Experience

Striving to gain experience for next year was primarily the goal of the B-teams. The B-games provided those players that do not play a lot in the A-games a chance to improve their skills. This year the girls had a record of 4-6 and the boys a record of 13-4. Coach Marquis stated that working with both teams was an exciting experience.

Batting for Success

Sitting: Shari Thoma, Carla Griffith, Donna Griffith, Windy Schuma. Middle Row: Kathy Buoy, Lori Penner, Carolyn Long. Back Row: Coach Schultz, Karen Haynes, Paula Long, Marilyn Weiss, Coach Marquis.

Ending the season with a record of 18-8, plus placing second in the Okemah tournament typified the success of the high school girls' softball team. This was the last year for seven of the ten girls that played. Coach Schultz remarked, "This was the best softball season we've ever had."

"A winning team doesn't always have to have a perfect record," said baseball coach, Mr. Nichols. Even with a record of 0-18, Coach Nichols said, "The boys practiced very hard and never gave up." Only two of the eleven boys who played this year will be leaving the team.

Johnny Griffin came off the field after having a tough inning against Piedmont.

The girls' track team placed sixth in the state. They placed first in the Prague and OBU meets. Going to the state track meet and placing seventh was the 440 relay team consisting of Shari Thoma, Tracy Burdine, Regina Bias, and Kim Johnson. Tracy Burdine set two Class A records. She placed first in the long jump and first in the 220 yard hurdles. Holly Short also went to state in the discus and shot put.

The track meets the boys competed in were Western Heights, Lincoln County at Stroud, and Regional track meet at Konawa. Jay Crawford, the only senior, placed fourth at Regionals in the 100 yard dash.

"The volleyball team had the most successful season of any volleyball team at Prague," said Coach Schultz. The team won first in the Prague Tournament and ended the season with a record of 17-5. They were defeated by Putnam City West in regional play.

"The golf team was a very young team consisting of sophomores only, but they gained a lot of experience for next year's team," said Coach Cook. They competed in golf meets at Drumright and Regionals at Cushing. They placed third in the '66" Conference meet at Chandler.

Hitting Their Best Shot

Lincoln County Runner-Up and Okemah Invitational Champions were the payoffs to a very impressive freshman girls basketball team this year. With a record of 16-3, Coach Mark Stingley commented that his team played better than expected. He thought that two games were really outstanding. The first was the second game of the season with Dale which we won 47-38. He said it was as good as any ninth grade girls game he had ever seen. The second game was in the finals of the Lincoln County Tournament which we lost to Wellston 43-41, but it was the best basketball game he had seen in years with no team ever leading by more than three points.

With an 0-15 record you would probably think "Wow! what a sorry team but," according to freshman boys basketball Coach Gary Marquis, "they thought differently." He said that his team played every game with enthusiasm, hustle, and pride. He felt that their best game was against Okemah in the Lincoln County Tournament in which they played an overall very good game. He also said that he was well satisfied with the improvement of the team.

Learning the Basics

"I felt like it was a good season in that the players improved their talents quite a bit. Our win-loss record (3-4-1) was not that impressive, but we felt that at the ninth grade level learning the basics is the most important part," replied Coach Cooper when asked how he felt about the season. Coach Cooper said that their best game of the year was with Stroud. "Even though the team lost the game (14-0), it was a hard fought game, and the players played the best they had all season."

Coach Cooper explained game strategy to quarterback Mike Warden at Stroud.

Athletes Honored at Sports Banquet

Tracy Burdine and Jay Crawford were presented the best All-Round Athlete's awards, at the Annual All-Sports Banquet held April 27. Letter "P" awards were presented and the outstanding athletes in each sport were honored along with the drill team and cheerleaders. Mr. Charles Heatly from Lindsay High School was the guest speaker.

Athletes receiving honors were Outstanding Football Mike Denney, Outstanding Softball, Marilyn Wells, Outstanding Baseball, Mike Cockman, Outstanding Basketball, Janet Martin and Damon Moon; Outstanding Track, Jay Crawford; and Outstanding Volleyball, Carla Griffith.

Jay Crawford received a plaque from Coach Gillispie.

It Will Blow Your Mind

Minds were often blown in upper division Math and Science classes by demonstrating Cramer's method of solving equations in Trigonometry, charting cross country flight patterns in Aviation, writing grade averaging programs in Computer Science, and producing chemical reactions in Chemistry.

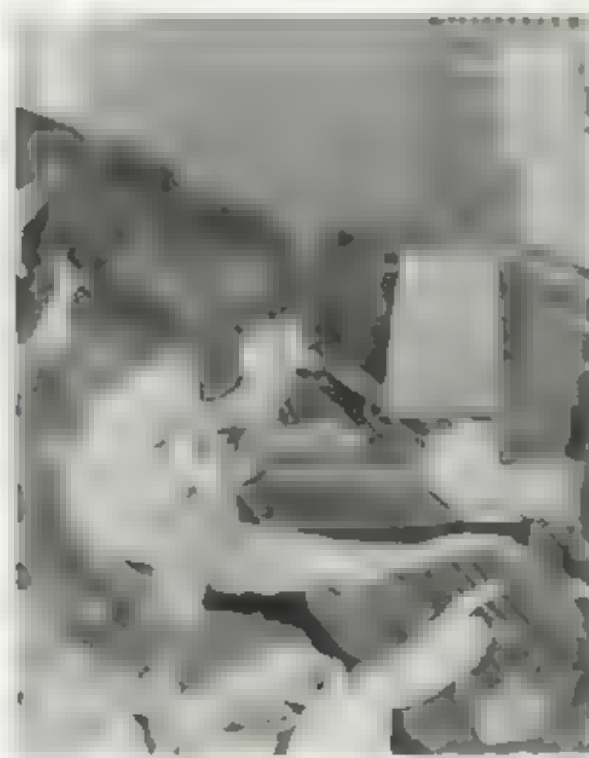

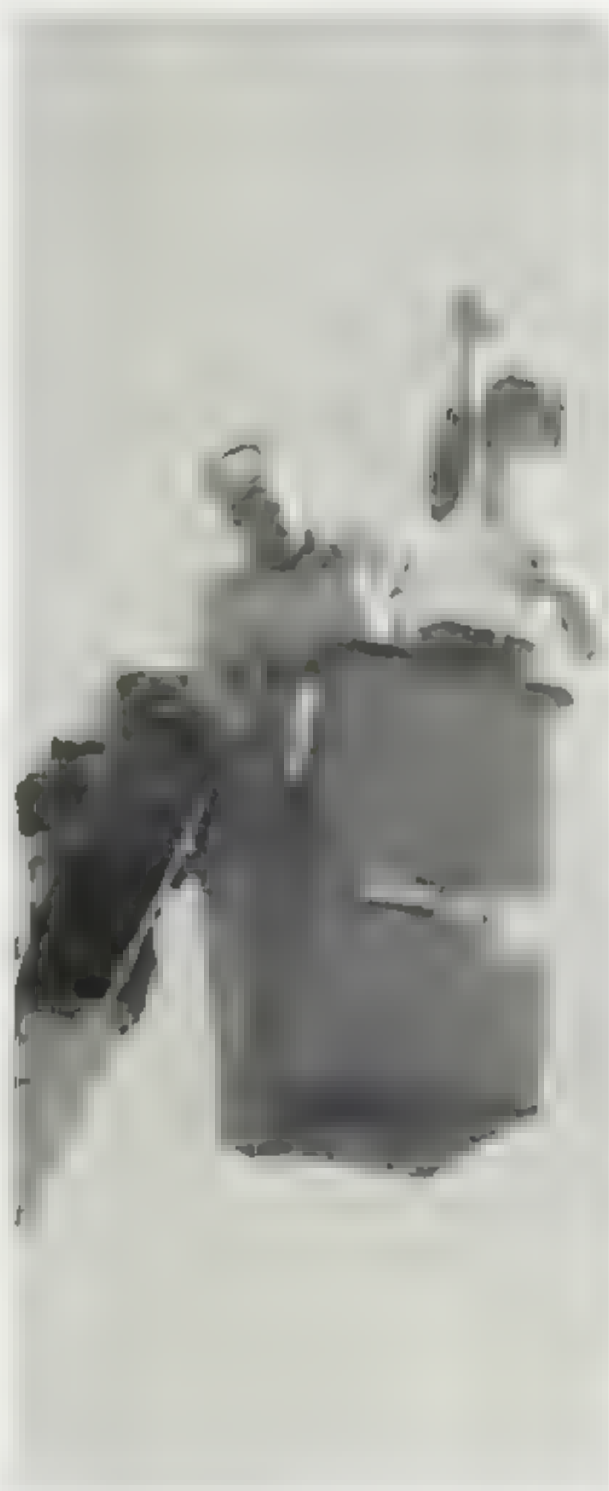

Fortunately, all was not hard work! Enjoyable trips to The University of Oklahoma's Math Day, entering OU's Engineering and Science Fair, and touring Will Rogers World Airport were opportunities to break the monotony of routine school life.

Classics Come Alive

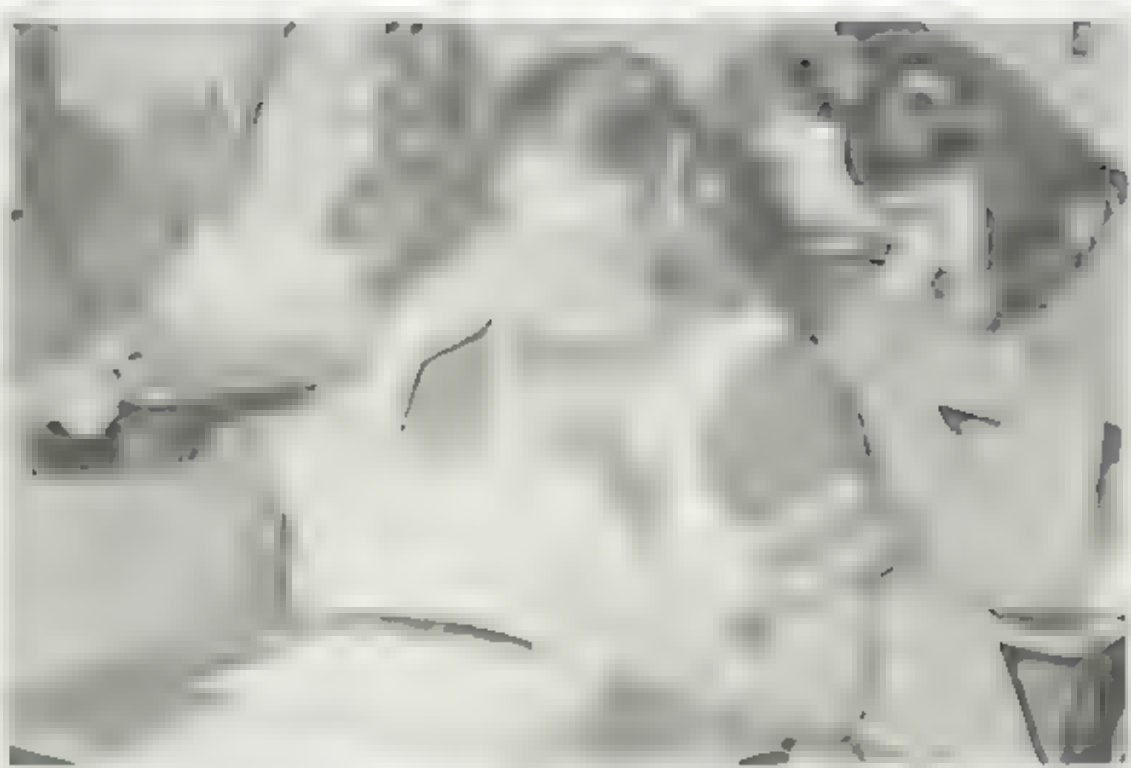

Classics came alive as Junior and Senior College Prep students wrote various critical analysis over American and World authors and their works. On the other hand, the Journalism classes were busy publishing the school newspaper, The Devils Advocate. Journalism students also did units on editorials and critical reviews over movies, albums, and books. Aging and Juvenile Criminology were the main topics for the Psychology and Sociology class and documented papers in scrapbook format were a requirement over their units.

As a project for Oklahoma History classes, the freshmen visited the Oklahoma Image Photographic Exhibit at the Prague Public Library and Prague National Bank. U.S. History students did reports over the Civil War. French authors and their novels were studied by the French I and II classes. They also attended the French Day at Oklahoma University on March 6 where they competed in various French centered activities. Several French students wrote to pen pals in different countries.

Working Hands

Mastering practical skills students can use after they are out of high school was one of the main purposes of the business and home economic classes

"The business classes helped prepare students for the 'world of work'," said Mrs. Pritchett. Accounting, office practice, general record keeping, typing, and shorthand were just some of the business classes offered. In these classes students learned such things as how to balance a checkbook, how to prepare an itinerary from airline schedules, and how to write a reply to a letter. Also, field trips to local businesses helped familiarize students with local business practices

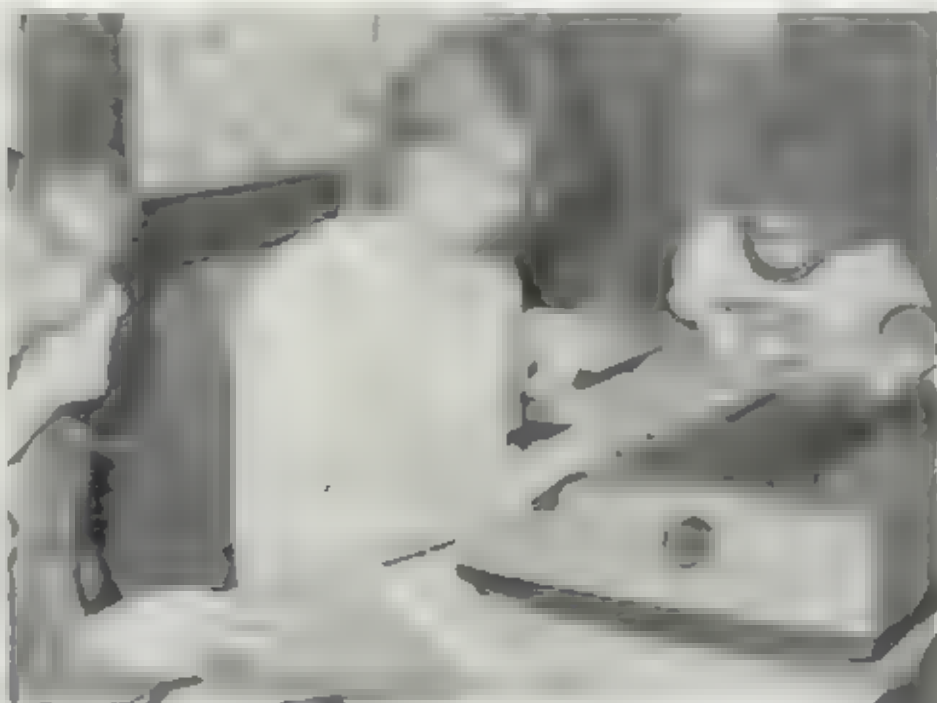

Hands learning skills for everyday living were some of the many things the home economic classes learned. All the classes learned new methods in sewing and even the boys in single survival got into the act by making goose-down vests. The students also studied a unit in sex education with the climax of the unit being a model wedding with the Home Ec. III and the single survival class playing the various parts. Cooking was one of the highlights of the year. Crocheting, knitting, and quilting were taught through a special Title IV C program for the first time this year

Artistic Hands Take Control

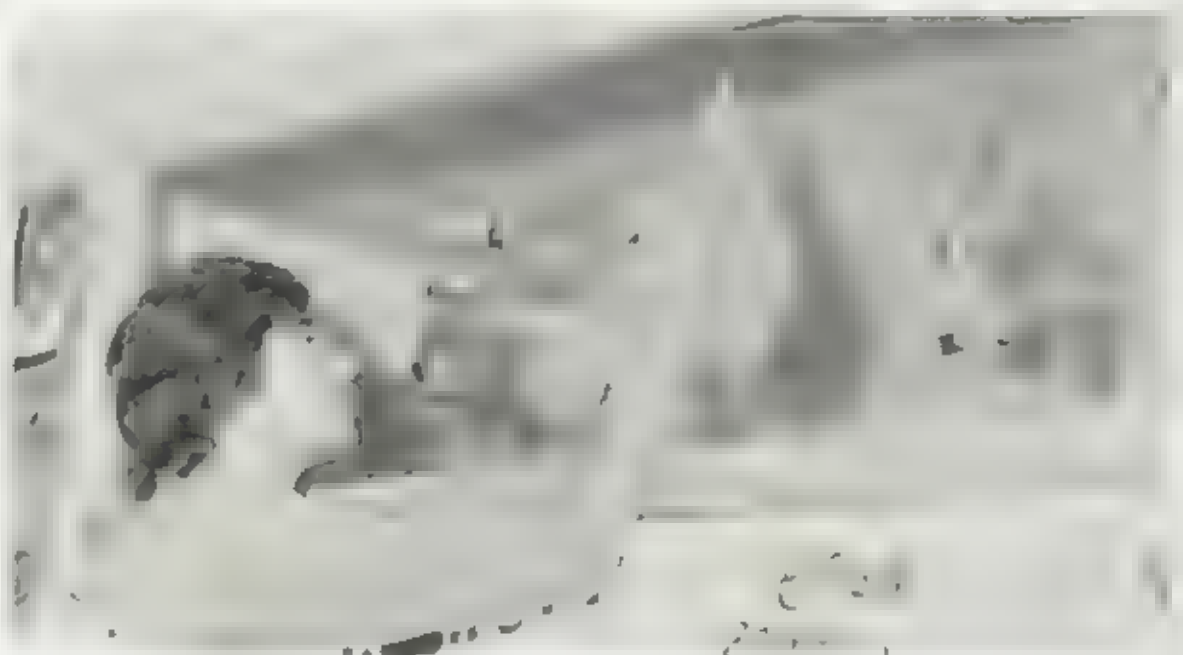

Dull utensils came alive when artistic hands took control. Demonstrating creativeness changed clay, water color, ink, and pastels into artistic masterpieces. Architects of the future made drafting look easy as they manipulated triangular scales, protractors, French curves, and compasses. Cedar hope chests and gun racks were the culmination of long hours of sanding, staining, and varnishing.

CVET students learned useful trade skills by building a greenhouse, gazebo, and trash bin. Yield signs, rear view mirrors, and brakes were helpful safety precautions that changed pedestrians into permit drivers.

The skills learned in these industrial arts classes proved to be quite applicable to the students who participated in On-the-Job Training. Instead of attending classes at Vo-Tech the entire semester, the O.J.T. students gained actual work experience in a wide variety of jobs which included working at the Prague Municipal Hospital, Kinnamon's, Prague Florist, T G & Y, Attorney Robert Martin's office, City of Prague, and other businesses.

Students Enjoyed Brain Bowl

This year students brought back many medals from various scholastic meets. The Brain Bowl was something new this year for the academically minded. There were competitions between the top grade point students in each class. Then a final competition was held between winners in each grade 9-12, with trophies presented to the winners. The Lion's Club also sponsored a scholastic banquet with the teachers giving one student per class an award for their academic honors

Staff Captures Memories

The Yearbook Staff hopes that this year's annual will be one of the most important possessions that you will treasure.

The staff worked very hard to capture the memories of all Prague students. The front cover and art work were designed by the students to carry out the western theme "Lasso a Dream."

Each page was planned by the section editors and most of our photographs were taken and developed by members of the staff. The financial planning and selling of ads were jobs of the business managers.

Planning pages, cropping pictures, writing copy, typing captions, and meeting deadlines were just a few of the tasks faced by the staff.

The staff also attended a Yearbook Workshop at O B U, sponsored by Taylor Publishing Company and the Oklahoma Interscholastic Press Association Annual Fall Conference at O U, where the 1980 Red Devil Yearbook was critiqued.

Drill Team! Forward March!

Added attractions to the drill team's halftime performances were fancy new hats, boots, and sparkling new uniforms.

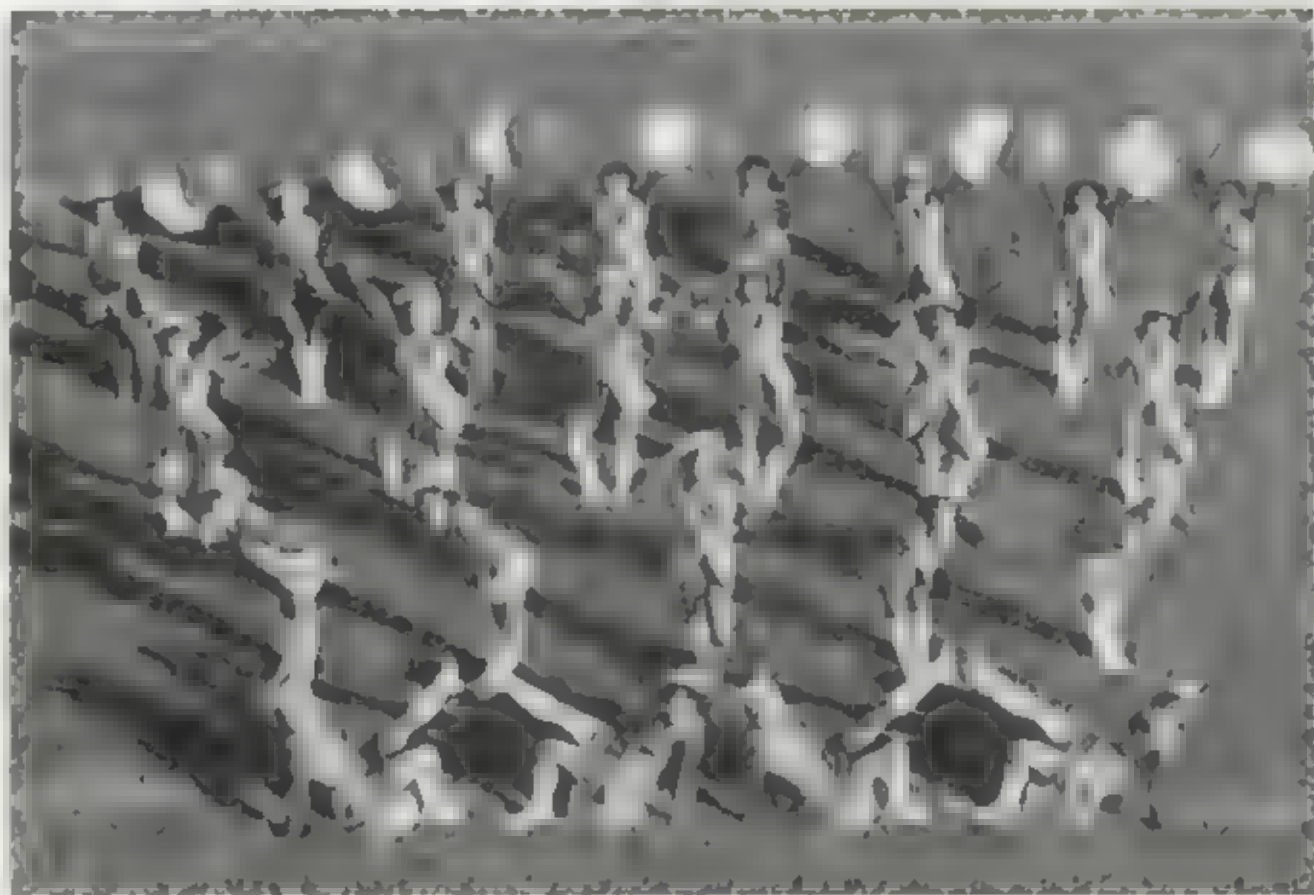

The drill team members raised money for their uniforms by having a carwash and a Girls' Drill Team Clinic for area girls.

The drill team also wanted a lot of ideas for new routines, so the girls split up and attended three different camps. They attended two camps in Tulsa and one in Enid. The girls brought home many ribbons for their abilities in the categories of Marching, Dance, and Pom Pon routines. Nina Nichols, Ann Foreman, and Jill Spradling also brought home from Tulsa a second place trophy over their whole camp.

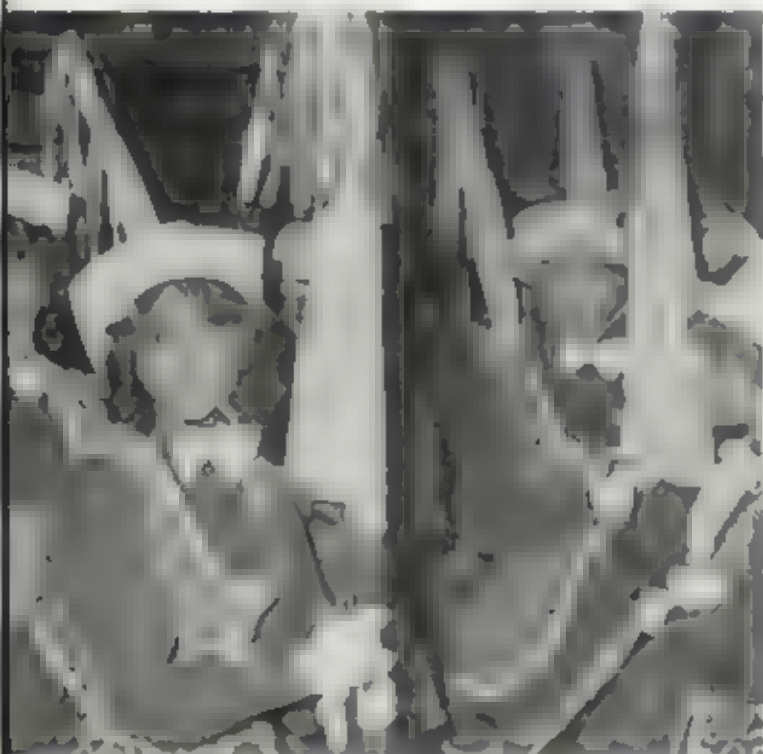

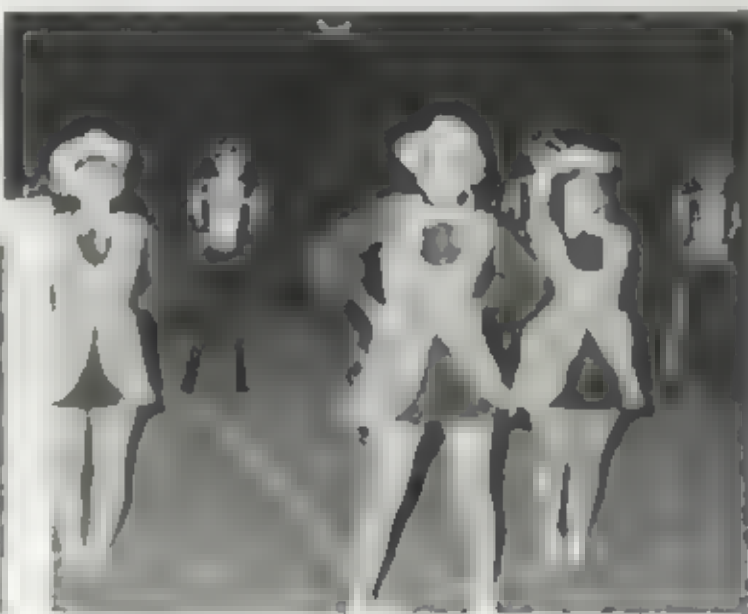

The drill team provided entertainment at halftime of all the football games. They also performed at girls' and boys' basketball games during halftime, at the assemblies, and on Kolache Day.

Spirit Is Overflowing! Thank Goodness for Big Mouths, Strong Lungs, and a Little . . .

The cheerleaders did more than just cheer for all the football and basketball games. They organized several pep assemblies, painted signs for the halls and downtown, organized a spirit week for the Lincoln County Tournament during basketball season. They also attended a summer cheerleading camp at Shamrock Camp in Eufaula, Oklahoma. The girls brought home numerous, valuable awards including the highest award given at any camp, The Award of Excellence

Concert Band and Stage Band Go to State

Continuing the tradition that began five years ago, our Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. Duncan Coons, earned the right to compete in the State Concert Contest at Norman. In addition to an "excellent" performance at State, the band also earned a superior rating at District, and second place at the Fun Country Music Festival in Sulphur. Besides the contest performances, the Concert Band performed at the Christmas and Spring Concerts.

The Stage Band was another very successful part of the music department. The Stage Band was made up of band students that were willing to work after school, early morning, and late night. This small group of students earned excellent ratings at the Fun Country Music Festival in Sulphur, Checotah Band Day in Checotah, and State Stage Band Contest in Edmond.

Superior Ratings Earned by Marching Band

Once again our Marching Band showed what it was capable of doing by winning first place at the Pryor Area Band Review in Pryor. The band also earned a Superior at the Regional Marching Contest in Ponca City, third place at the Lawton Invitational Marching Contest, first place at the Seminole Christmas Parade, second place at both Shawnee Christmas Parade and CSU Homecoming Parade, and third place at the OSU Homecoming Parade. The band is under the direction of Mr. Duncan Coons and under the field direction of Jeff Murray. The twirlers, flag and rifle corps added pomp to each Friday night's football game. All this was a result of long hours of work early in the morning, in hardly ideal weather. FFA Named Gold Emblem Chapter

The FFA Chapter traveled to the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Missouri. The chapter received a National Gold Emblem for its activities throughout the year. Some of the various things that the members participated in were attending the National Convention, entering a float in the Kolache parade, sponsoring a children's barnyard, and attending various stock shows and judging contests around the country. The stock shows the members attended included the local and county fairs, the Oklahoma City and Tulsa State Fairs, and the Ft. Worth stock show in Texas. Several members went to the Denver livestock show in Colorado. The judging teams attended many contests during the season. The teams included the Dairy, Livestock, Farm Structures, Entomology, and Poultry.

F.H.A. Has Busy Schedule

A very busy schedule was planned by the F.H.A. as they began their year. Money was raised to go to the State Rally by selling cookbooks, lunches on Thursdays, and Valentine carnations. Six hundred dollars was raised for the March of Dimes by having a rock-a-thon. For the first time, the Gong Show was televised by Prague Cablevision. The annual Daddy-Date Night and Mother-Daughter Salad Supper were a great success. The F.H.A. also sponsored a Sweetheart Banquet with a western theme. Denise Murray was chosen to be a delegate to the National F.H.A. Convention in San Francisco.

Organizations Honor Students

The Pure Gold Rock Band, a collegiate rock group from Chickasha, along with a film was sponsored by the Student Council for the entire student body. A collection of canned goods was taken up during the Christmas holidays. The members attended the OASC State Convention at O.S.U. and had conferences with other schools on how to improve their Student Council.

Tutoring services were offered in various subjects by the National Honor Society as a way to raise money. Seventeen new members were administered the oath at the installation by Mr. Sprayberry, founder of the chapter. The N.H.S. Boy and Girl of the Year was presented to Curtis Smith and Patricia Pritchett.

An egg drop was sponsored by the Science Club. They attended the O.U. Science and Engineering Fair and the officers went to Southwestern University for a meeting. A time capsule was built and buried and will be opened in the future. Daniel McCurley presented a paper challenging Einstein's Theory at the Junior Academy of Science and Arts and also drew a model of a rocket engine using anti-matter as a propellant.

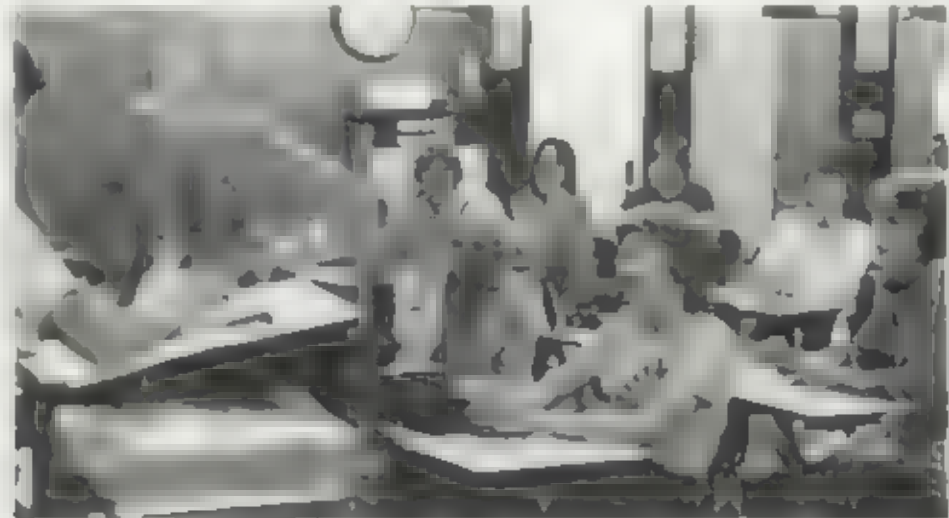

A computer tournament was typical of the active meetings of the Mu Alpha Theta. A guest speaker spoke on SWITIC — ways to kill time in class. The group also attended Math Day at the University of Oklahoma. The Mu Alpha Theta completed its second year.

Aides Contribute Free Time

Seen each holiday decorating the library were the library aides. They also helped set up films, check out books, and sell school supplies. At the end of the year the aides helped prepare a complete inventory of books.

Running errands, picking up absentee slips, operating the Xerox machines, writing admits, and filling pop machines were typical jobs that you saw office workers doing each day. Although office workers did not get a credit for being an aide, they contributed a lot of their time and energy to help the school run smoothly.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes' members woke up early every Friday morning for their before school meetings.

The members all had a common bond; they were all involved in athletics. Discussions, Bible studies, speakers, and other projects were all part of their early morning meetings.

Students that felt they needed a break from class work, applied to be a teacher's aide. Those students did not receive any credit on their transcript for their work, but it did break the monotony of a heavy schedule.

Vocal Cords Put to Good Use

The Glee Club started out with a group that had never performed together before. They performed at the Veterans Day Assembly, the annual Christmas Concert, and the Lions Club. They also taped a performance for the local cable T.V. The highlight of the year was the trip to the District Vocal Contest in Harrah. A rating of "Excellent" was really something to be proud of for the group.

This year the speech team consisting of eight people, attended several speech tournaments to qualify five for regionals.* A total of 11 trophies were captured by the team. They attended the Central State University Tournament, Meeker High School Tournament, Seminole High School Tournament, and the East Central State University Tournament.

GLEE CLUB — Darla Gilliland, Betty Davis, Janet Cork, Andrea Terrell, Kim Blocker, Tracy Burdine, Lisa Becherer, Victor Daniels, Mr. Coons, Adv. Lisa Berry, Kay Bias, Daphne Anderson, Sharla Adkisson, Regina Bias, Violot Patterson, Cheryl Hopper, Cheryl Winter, Rhonda Dillman

People

Administration: The People Behind Us

"Lasso a Dream" is an excellent theme for an annual. That is the purpose of an annual to help us remember dreams we had yesterday and remind us of the dreams we have for tomorrow. The annual is a pictorial record of a pleasant time in our lives, of good friends in by-gone days, of events in which we were a part. Strangely, the older we become the more important and ingrained these friends and events become in our lives.

The aim and philosophy of Prague Schools has been to prepare you for today and tomorrow. We have attempted to stress the basic values of justice and freedom and to instill honesty and integrity into your life.

Many years hence when you look at this annual and remember the past, we hope that you can smile and say with head held high that you have no fear of tomorrow.

We want you to face tomorrow with a calm assurance and an inner peace, knowing that your passing this way has been important to each of us.

Juniors

Raising $1,700 by selling Tom Wat Products typified the enthusiasm of the 77 Juniors who planned the Junior-Senior Prom. Their exciting Junior year was composed of solving many important questions pertaining to the prom: deciding on the theme, decorations, meal for the banquet, and whether to have a music machine or live band for the dance

The Sophomore year can be a whole new experience. For many students it was the first time to be behind the wheel of a car. When asking a Sophomore how he felt after getting his driver's license Joe Carpenter said, "It took all the fun out of driving because now I am legal and not afraid of getting caught." Also, the Sophomores received training in CPR, which can be a real life saver

Freshmen

Initiation Weeks became an important part of the freshman year. There was FHA or FFA that the freshmen could join. Each club held a week of dressing up funny and doing "crazy things." Freshmen thought of the initiations as embarrassing, but when they looked back on it they were glad they joined the clubs.

Program Encourages Sportsmanship and Competition

The Middle School basketball program was designed to encourage competition and sportsmanship with an ultimate goal of producing good teams at the High School level. We were proud of our teams and coaches.

The sixth grade girls ended the season with a 10-3 record and won second place in the ABC tournament. The sixth grade boys ended the season with an 8-6 record and won first place in the ABC tournament.

The seventh grade girls ended the season with a record of 4-11 and the boys with a 12-4 record.

Shelly Spears, David Heaton and Bobby Sala made Christmas trees for decorations to put on their walls

Since the eruption of Mt. St. Helens was a very popular subject this year Mrs. Teague's class decided to study volcanoes. They borrowed a volcano and got to actually witness it erupt. The class also enjoyed holidays. For Halloween they made jack o lanterns in class and roasted and ate the seeds. For Christmas they made a glow candle and drew names for it. Some units studied were King Tut, Ancient Egypt, the American Indians and birds. An Oklahoma Land Run was staged in April with students staking out their claims and filing them in land offices.

David Cork, Landon VanZant, Brandon Remington and Jeff Adair waited anxiously for the eruption of the volcano they borrowed.

One of the highlights of the year for the second grade was getting to present a Christmas program for their parents entitled "The Space man's Christmas." The students also did a mini grant on "Valuable Values to Learn." To add a little entertainment to their studies each student helped paint a scene on the wall in their classroom. To make the students study a little harder for their spelling test they popped popcorn for each test if they all made 100's

Judd Wilson gave Andrea Johnson an extra seat during recess.

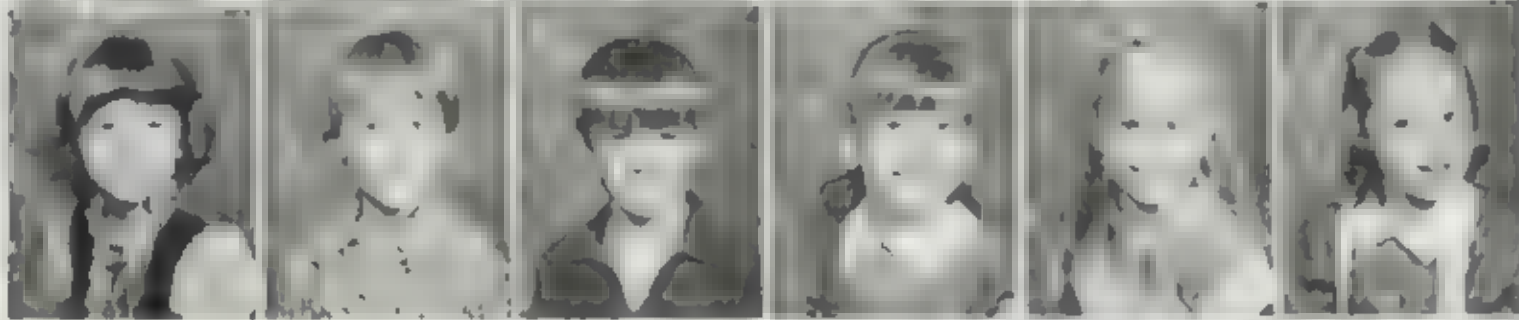

Starting Kindergarten can be a scary experience as 20 students found out on August 19, 1980. These 20 students were taught by two teachers, Mrs. Dukes and Mrs. Treadman. There are two classes held in the morning and one class in the afternoon. The students learned numbers, how to paint and color, play with blocks, and mold clay. Perhaps most important, they learned how to get along with each other.

Colophon

The 400 copies of the 1981 Red Devil were printed by Taylor Publishing Company, Dallas, Texas.

The artwork for the cover, endsheets, and division pages were done by Sheila Galloway. The cover is white silk screen with red applied design. The endsheets are brilliant red.

The Red Devil contains 160 pages on 80 pounds offset enamel paper. Palatino type was used for copy and captions, Coronet Italic for senior activities and queen pages and Brush for division pages.

Ten pages were done in four-color process. The staff spent 2870 hours preparing the book and developed and printed 100 rolls of film.

The book was distributed August, 1981.

Illusions

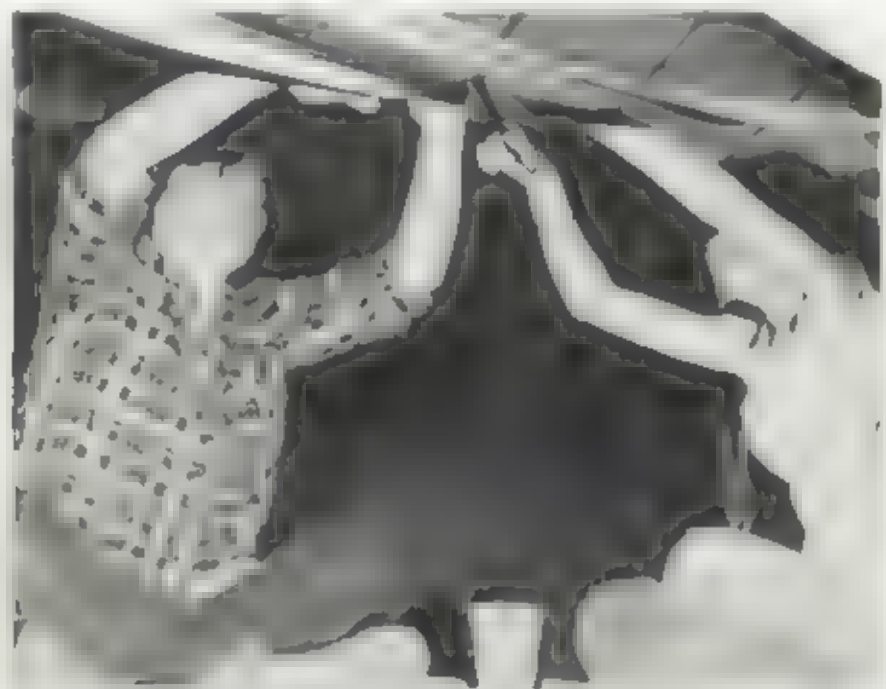

Was it all an Illusion? Did we in reality Lasso Our Dreams? Nationally, could President Ronald Reagan actually recover from an assassination attempt in time to see a successful launch of the Space Shuttle Columbia? It would seem impossible for the Prague High School to be North Central Accredited. To think that the National FFA President would come all the way to Prague to be the guest speaker at the FFA Sweetheart Banquet was absolutely unreal. Finally, the high school girls' basketball team fulfilled the student body's expectations by advancing to area competition.

These events were not Illusions, but actual national and local happenings that will be cherished as great memories. The times we spent together with our friends will always remind each of us that we were an important part of PHS and we did Lasso A Dream!

COMMISSION

Through our theme Lasso a Dream the staff members attempted to show that each student had dreams, whether it was getting an "A" on a test, meeting a deadline, graduating from high school, or passing to the next grade.

While putting this treasured yearbook together, I had a vague picture of how it would turn out. But even if it had never been printed, I would never regret one day of its preparation. It helped me realize how important a yearbook was because it captured memories and dreams of each and every student at Prague Schools.

Many hours were spent by the annual staff collecting and naming pictures, checking spelling, writing copy, and drawing out pages. It took everyone doing their part to meet each deadline.

A lot of people think it's an all "fun" class. It was fun, but it took a lot of effort by all the staff members. But most of all it took a lot of patience by Mrs. Pritchett to put up with all of us. To her I would like to say "Thank you." I would like to say thanks to each staff member for being cooperative and patient with me and for doing their pages with lots of enthusiasm.

I also appreciated the administration and teachers for being cooperative with all the staff members.

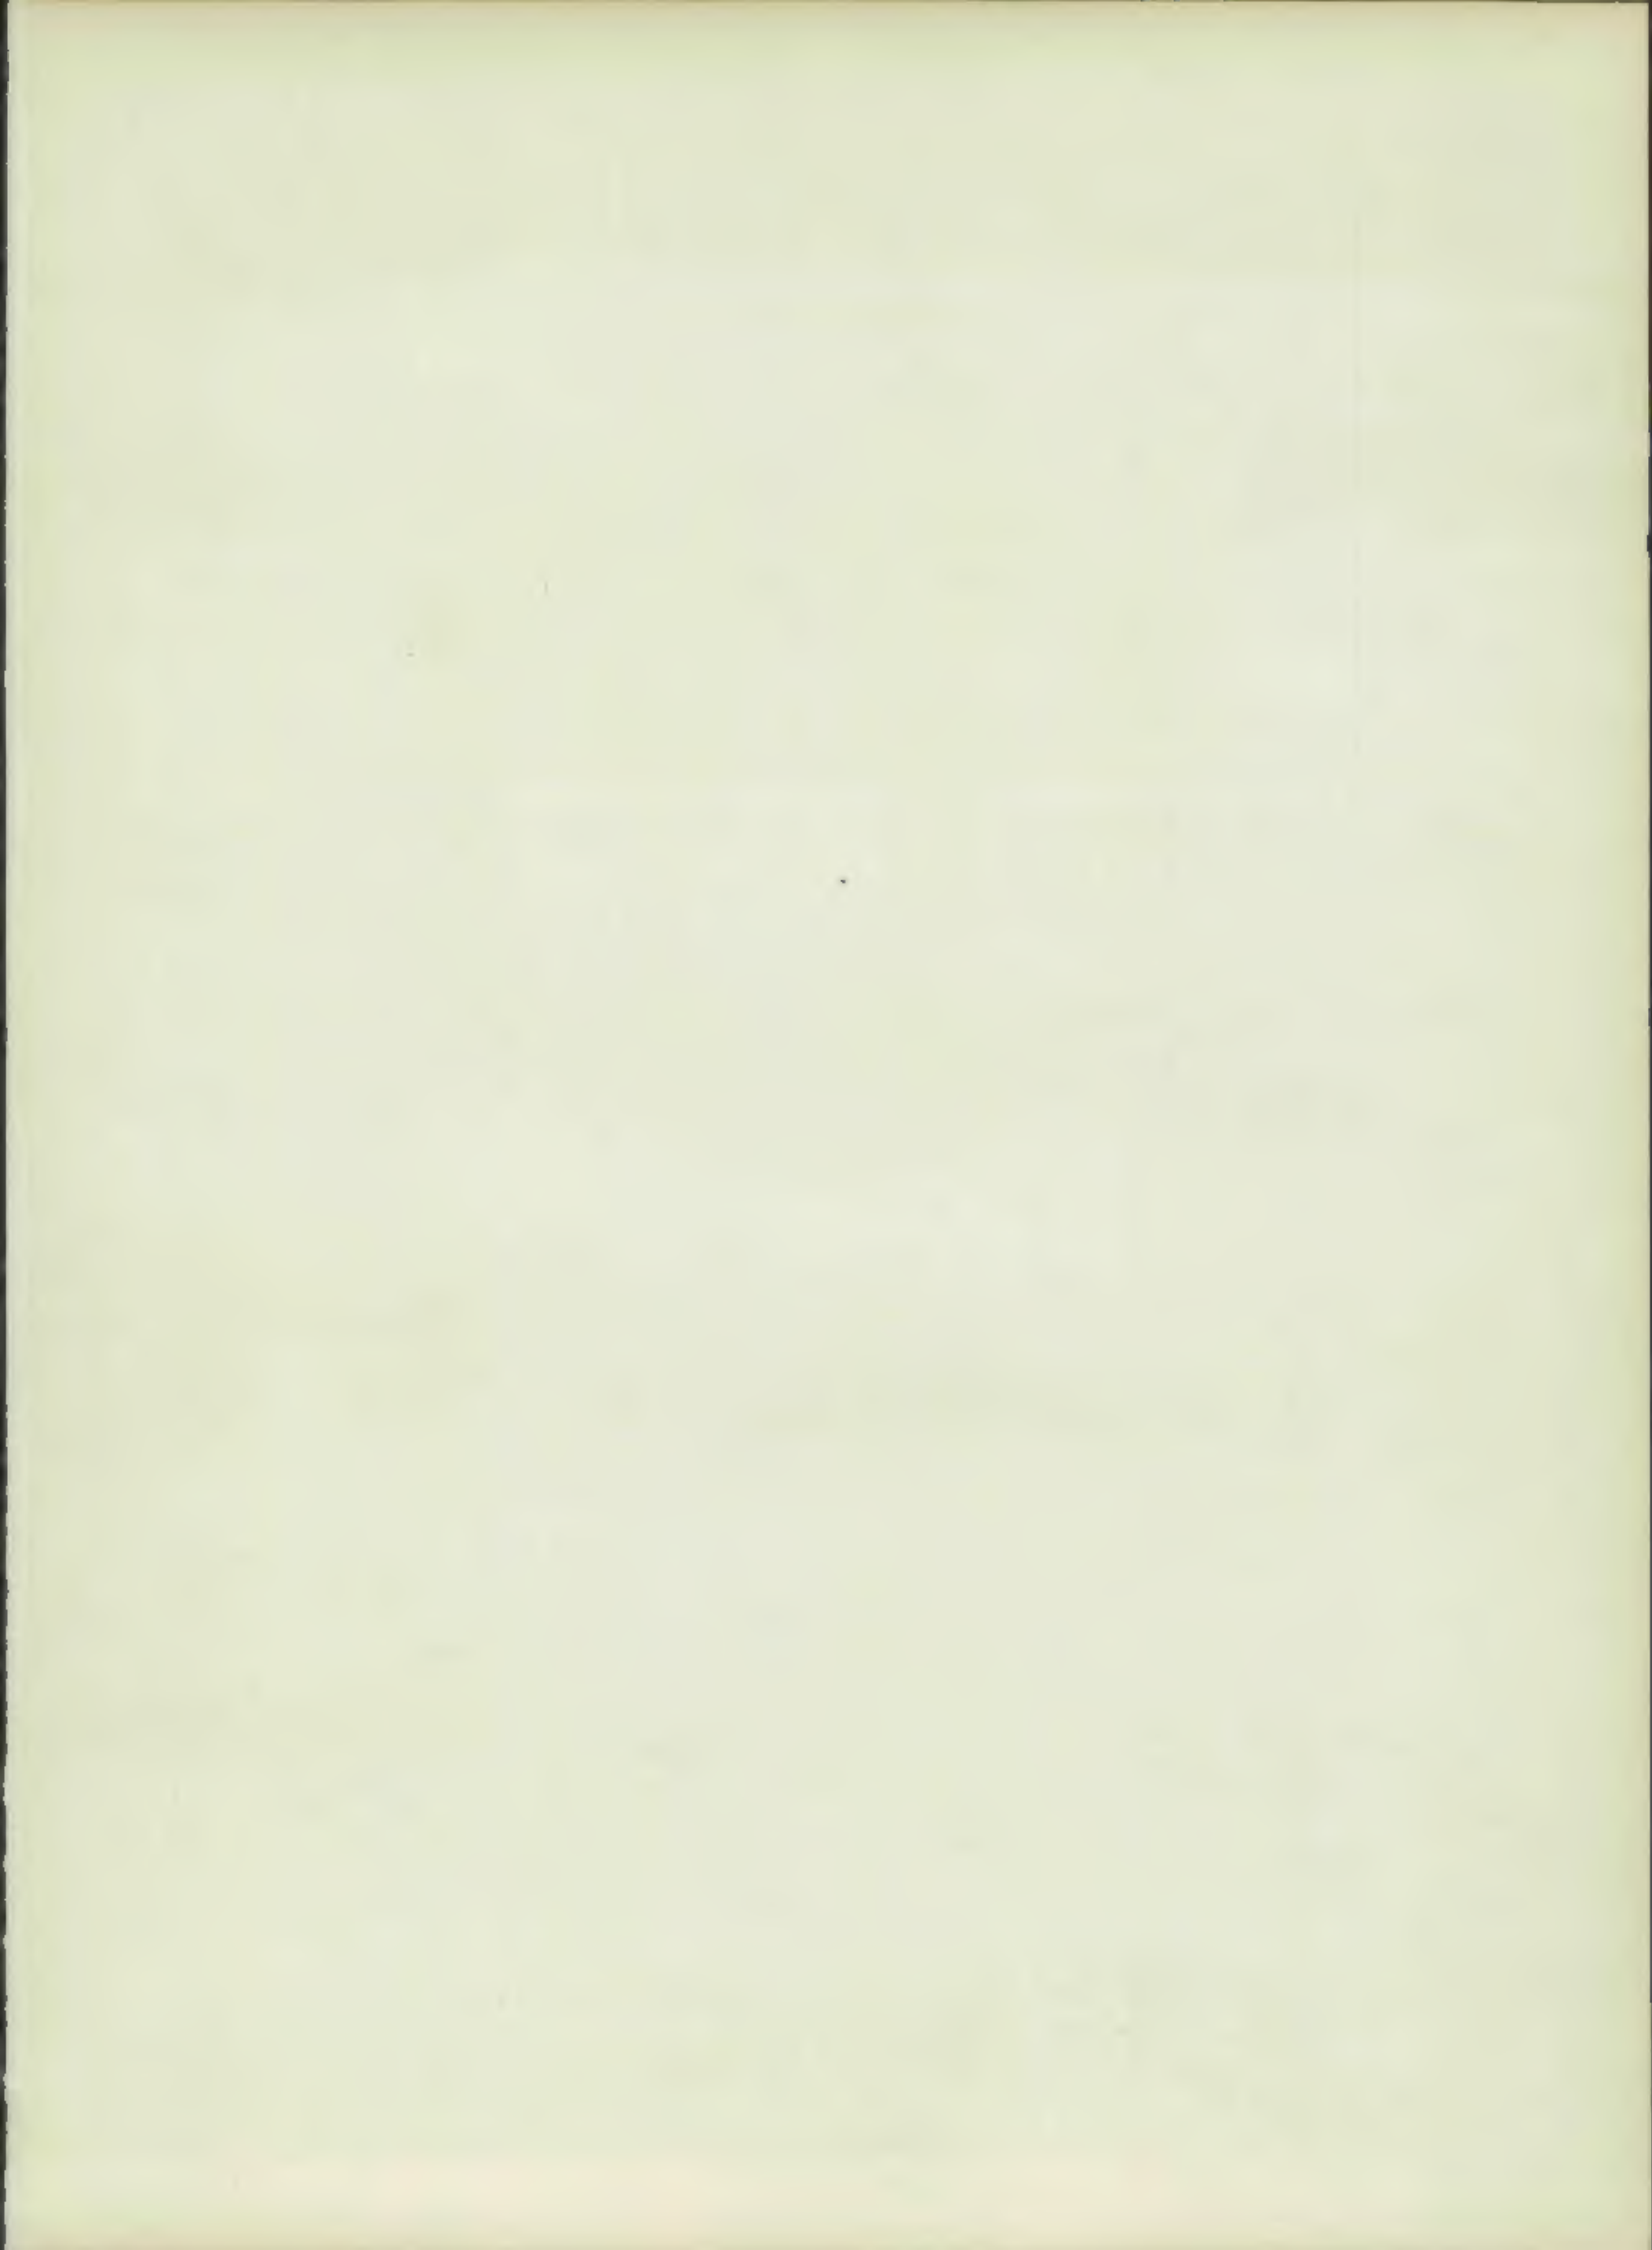

Thanks to the photographers for doing a great job on the pictures. Also thanks to Mr. John Thomas and Mr. Roger Pritchett for helping with pictures at various times. A big "Thanks" to Mr. Wynn and Terry for coming over and taking all our group shots.

But all of this would have not been possible without all the businesses who bought ads and those of you who reserved an annual.

Just remember "If you can imagine it, you can achieve it; if you can dream it, you can become it."
